was clearly evidenced by the representative gathering. The commissioned, enlisted, and civilian personnel were all out in full force, from Gen. C. B. Drake, in command of the M. T. C., down to the messenger boys.

The entire program was furnished by motor transport corps talent. A unique feature of the decorations was the many brilliant posters made by artists of the M. T. C., Lieut. B. Mathison and Private M. F. Pendergast.

Christmas greens a tree, a real Santa Claus, and a bevy of girls to deliver the gifts were not the least of attractive features of the evening. ## JEWS DRIVE FOR OVERSUBSCRIPTION

Determined to wind up the campaign by tomorrow night with a big oversubscription of the local quota, workers in the Jewish Relief Fund drive put forth renewed efforts today. Women workers on the Washington committee which is seeking to raise $50,000 as its quota to the fund to relieve the suffering of Jews in Europe, took their places in theaters, stores, and hotels this morning to receive subscriptions.

The local committee held a meeting this morning in the office of its chairman, Simon Lyon, to report on the progress of the drive yesterday. The drive will continue today and tomorrow. There will be a big dance Monday night for the benefit of the fund. This dance is being arranged by the young Jewish women of the city.

The members of five District councils of the Knights of Columbus have been urged to contribute to the fund liberally in order that the drive may result in an oversubscription of Washington's quota.

The action of the Knights of Columbus followed a vigorous appeal issued by the priests of the Society of Jesus at St. Aloysius' Church, calling upon Catholics in the name of charity and in appreciation of the traditional generosity of the Jews to give to the fund that is being raised "for the abatement of misery and great suffering among the Jews in Europe."

Chairman Lyon has received the following letter from Frank J. Hogan, head of the Red Cross drive here and an interested worker in behalf of the Jewish fund, strongly endorsing the present campaign.

"This is no time for the demobilization of charity. The sun of prosperity has never shone more brightly on any land than it is upon America during the past few years. Our national wealth has mounted to stupendous figures, and individual wealth has kept pace with it. Let every man and woman living under our starry banner of freedom take a personal inventory of his or her worldly possessions today, and the overwhelming majority will find that they are better
